At a recent Health and Safety Workshop at Ballance I had Rhett Brown come and share his story with us – Rhett had a tragic fall from height accident at work the accident changed his life forever and resulted in him becoming a Tetraplegic. Rhett’s accident happened on a construction site but his story is relevant to all workers who work from height – very engaging a sobering for those who hear his story. The feedback from the team here at Ballance was positive and as a result the team who attended the workshop have shared Rhett’s story to other workmates as well as friends and family outside of the workplace. I highly recommend Rhett as a speaker for any safety event. Check out his website for further info www.rhettbrown.co.nz
