

Impac Services is a company that specialises in spreading the safety message through our training and consultancy, but I have never witnessed anyone as effective in delivering this message as when Rhett came to speak at our annual Nebosh Students conference.

His presentation takes you through a powerful, no nonsense, step by step account, from the day of his accident to how he now copes with life. The participants at the conference were all safety professionals who you may think have heard it all before, but from the time Rhett started to speak until the end of his presentation you could have heard a pin drop!

Powerful, hard hitting, graphic, and honest, I would recommend Rhett to anyone. If you need convincing why all this 'OSH' stuff is necessary then you need to talk to Rhett. Thanks Rhett, it was a pleasure meeting you and you made a major impression on all those who were at the conference. Keep up the good work!
